

WELFORD.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday morning a working man of Husband's Bosworth, between 60 and 70 years of age, of the name of George Loomes, and very deaf, was walking along the railway line between the Welford and Theddingworth Stations, when the buffer of the engine of a passing train caught him and whirled him a considerable distance, killing him on the spot.